OF BISHOP DUBOURG,

OF THE LIEGELORD

RIDE FORTH

to speak the truth

to maintain the right to protect women, the poor and distressed to practice courtesy to defend the Christian religion to despise riches and luxury to maintain personal honor at every cost dedication to

Louis William Valentine Dubourg born on the isle of Santa Domingo, boy of the sunny Carribean, in 1766.
Lisping child hungry for knowledge sailed to Old France to the home of his fathers, studied in France the faith of all ages.

Louis, the priest, a Sulpician Father, taught in Old France the boys of the order, teaching as Christ the love of each other.
Louis, the priest, the Christian, the teacher, threatened with death by the French Revolution escaped to the coast disguised as a minstrel.

Louis, the priest, a restless missionary, carried his torch to far America, worked where he could. He taught the boys of St. Mary's in Baltimore, gathered up coins to build her cathedral, helped Mother Seton to found her order.

Father DuBourg in 1812's war days was sent to the land of Louisiana, a land that stretched from the Gulf to Canada, reached from the Rockies to the Father of Waters.
Anointed in Rome with the hand of Christ's Vicar, anointed as bishop in 1815, Bishop DuBourg came to St. Louis.

Bishop of Indians, travelers, traders, bishop of settlers far from the homeland, Louis DuBourg preached with power; Louis DuBourg taught of the Father, brought to the Indians the Jesuit missionaries, brought to St. Louis the Sacred Heart Madames, built in the woods the Vincentian seminary, school for priests at Perryville.

Cathedral built on the shore of the river,
Jesuits teaching the first in their college,
Bishop Rosati his co-adjutor —
Louis DuBourg wearied with journeying, Louis DuBourg resigned from his post.

Louis DuBourg, eleven years bishop, labored in France for seven years more, died there in 1833 gave up his valiant soul to his God.

BISHOP DUBOURG

CAVALIER PRAYER

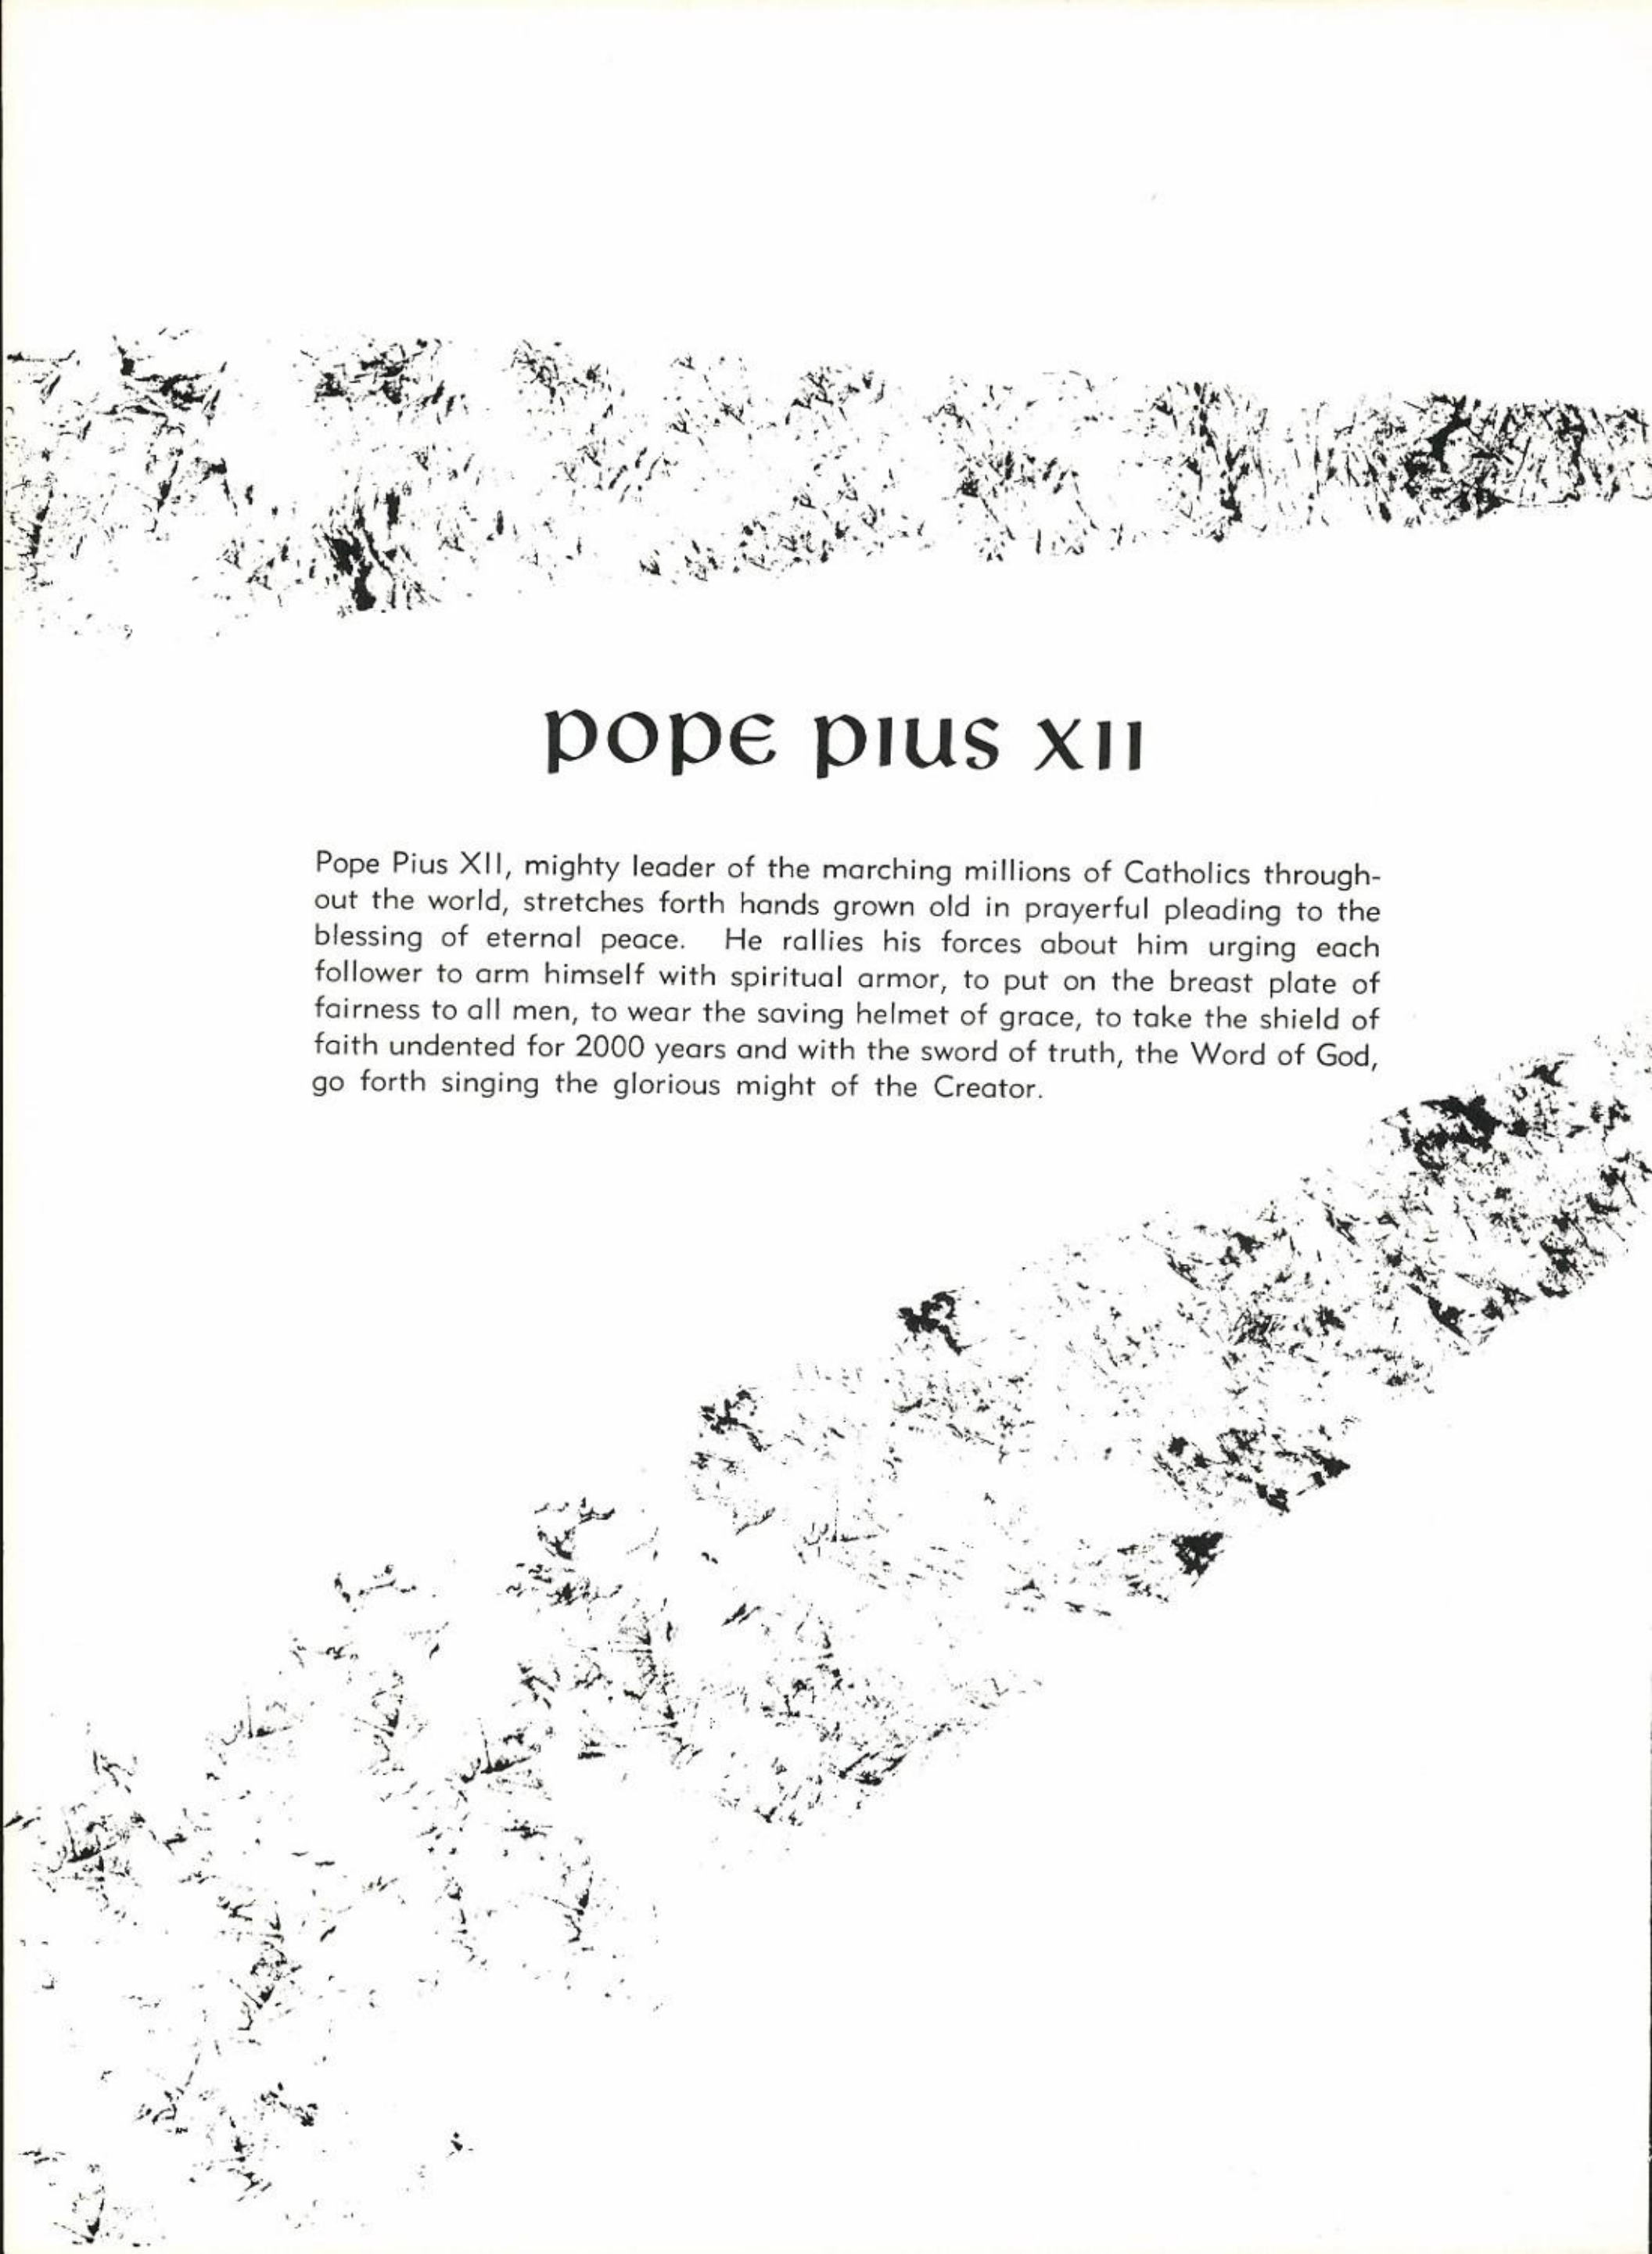

Lo, I, a youthful knight,
Keeping long vigil before this shrine of grace
Silent and still throughout the solemn hours
In lowlihead of my untested powers,
Here in this holy place
To Thee and right
My sword and shield do plight.

If in the midst of life,
The stress of this hot strife,
Thee
I cannot see
For the surrounding foe,
And stricken sore
Unto my spirit's core
Do hide my grievous hurt beneath a prideful pall
And so Irrevocably fall, —
Even in the thick of fight
Purge Thou my sight.

If clouded with despair
I see naught fair
And in midday yet walk in darkest night,
Girt round with hopelessness unriven
By friendly light, —
In any simplest thing
That from the sod may spring,
In bird-notes trilling wild,
In laughter of a child,
Give me a faint glimpse of Heaven.

VIGIL

pope pius xii

Pope Pius XII, mighty leader of the marching millions of Catholics throughout the world, stretches forth hands grown old in prayerful pleading to the blessing of eternal peace. He rallies his forces about him urging each follower to arm himself with spiritual armor, to put on the breast plate of fairness to all men, to wear the saving helmet of grace, to take the shield of faith undented for 2000 years and with the sword of truth, the Word of God, go forth singing the glorious might of the Creator.

ARCHBISHOP RITTER

Archbishop Elmer Joseph Ritter, unfurling crusading banners as St. Louis the king of old, dauntlessly leads on his army of Catholics. Soldier of Christ, he wills all Christians to be alert, to be armed with knowledge and understanding.

His Excellency, Bishop Leo C. Byrne, helps stand protective guard over the knights of the archdiocese, directing them to fight valiantly to uphold the right.

Father James T. Curtin, Superintendent of Archdiocesan Schools, plans wisely a system of education to train those on the brink of maturity into staunch Catholic soldiers of Christ.

Sister Mary de Sales, C.P.P.S., Principal

Through the days that shove one another through the school year, Sr. Mary de Sales has the gigantic task of setting nearly 2000 students on the right path in their quest of the "grail." Whatever the problem that faces her, she has always the same calm approach, the smiled "yes" or "no" that in her wise treatment seems the only right answer. Unruffled by baffling numbers, Sister leads rank upon rank of an army of youth.

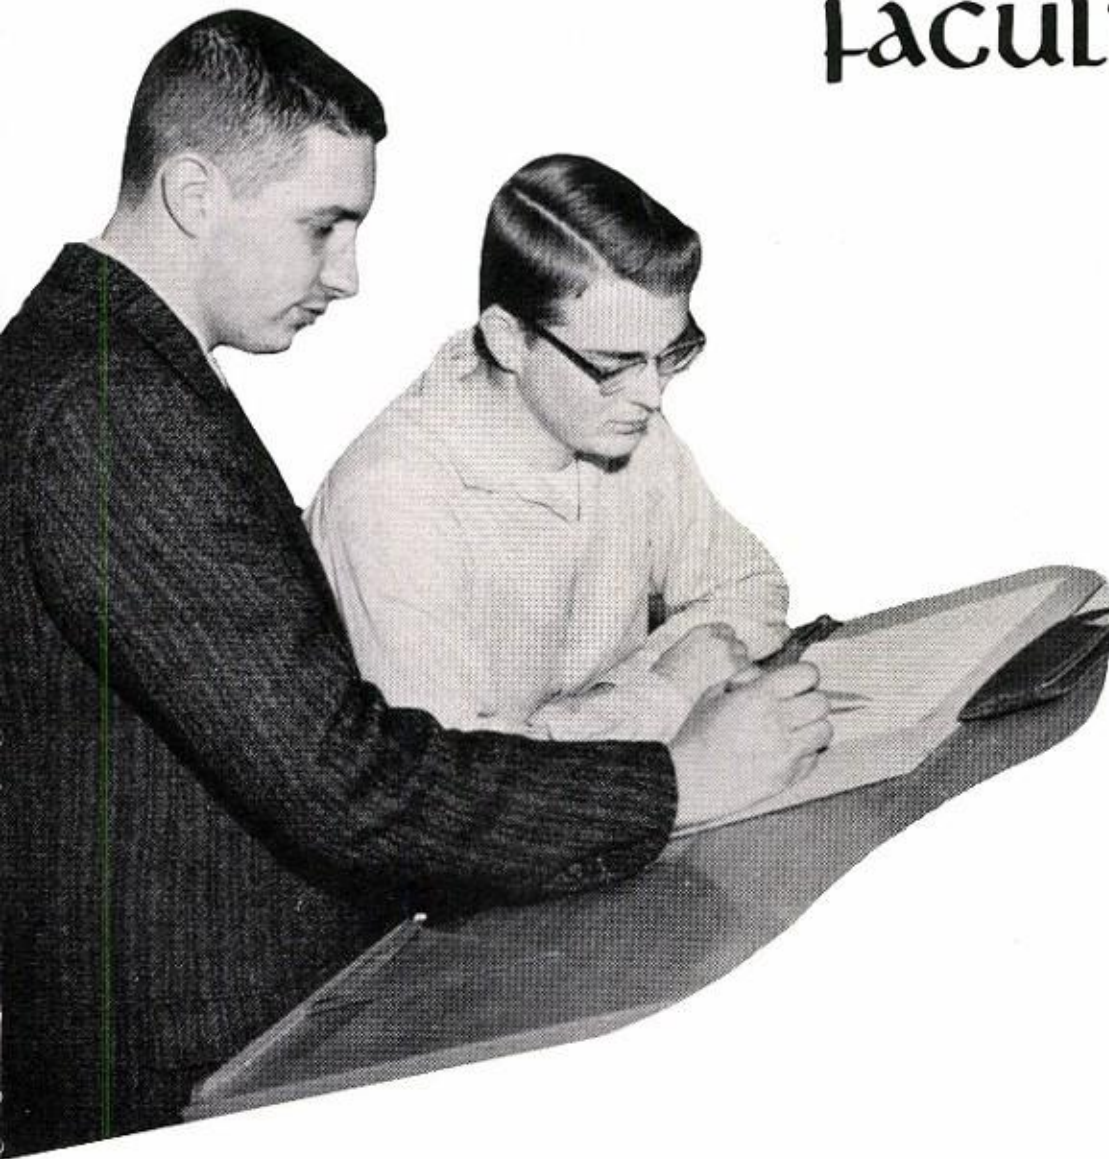

Father Thomas F. Albrecht, Director

On hand at all the crossroads of school life with a ready word of encouragement, Father helps many a knight errant choose the right path in his ventures. Great or small, no matter what is at the heart of the trouble, Father knows the best vantage point from which to slay the foe. His advice to the would-be valiant is that all strength comes to the soldier of God when he kneels in vigil before the altar at the Sacrifice of the Mass.

The Sisters of the Most Precious Blood of O'Fallon, Missouri have their origin in the be-castled past of Europe. More than 100 years ago they were founded in Switzerland. Until the time of the Kulturkampf, the sisters taught, did church sewing and cared for orphans in Switzerland and Germany. They came to the United States in 1870.

A priest is also ordained to teach. Diocesan priests sacrifice time to teach secular subjects as well as religion. They are present in our school as a living example of Christ's love for the young. They bring the grace of Holy Mass and the Sacraments, and the peace of mind with help and guidance.

RELIGION

In a world that glitters with manufactured beauty, man must learn that the inventiveness of the human mind is only a dim imitation of the Eternal Inventor.

"And its marks are . . ." Betty Reinagel and Tom St. John list them.

That question's too easy, Father Deutschmann.

Graphs are helpful in comparing churches in Father Thurmer's junior class. With him are Beverly Shea, Kay Messmer, Don Marquess, Joan Eichenseer and Pat Adams.

Father Goellner agrees with Mike Scalise, Joan Slama and Marian Callier that a breviary looks like Greek.

ART-CRAFT

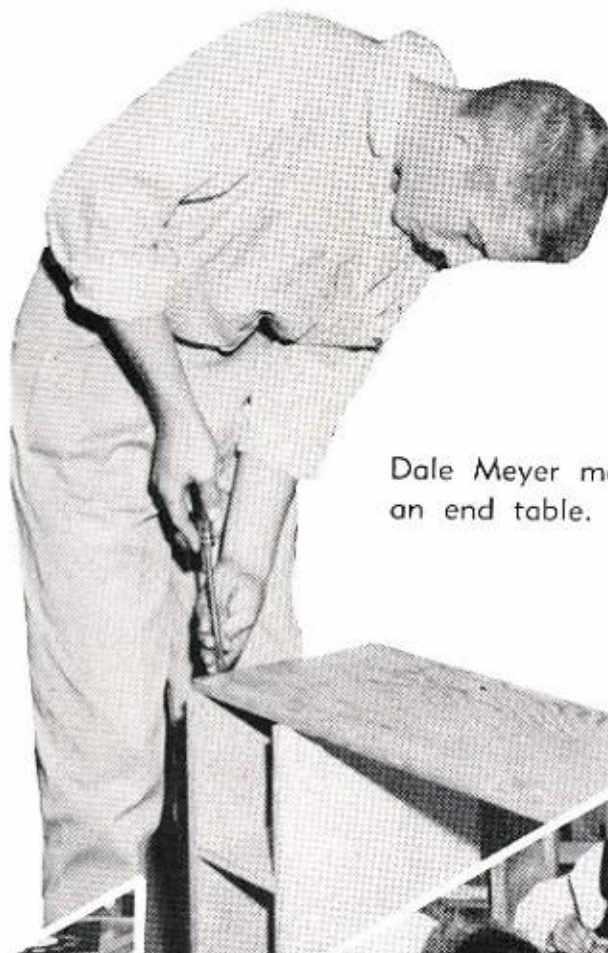

Every heart longs to create,
to make a soul-satisfying thing of beauty.

Whatcha' makin'
Tom? kindling? Tom DeRousse in woodcraft.

Ed Farrow's not asleep,
just exerting energy.

Dale Meyer makes

Mary Vansaghi.

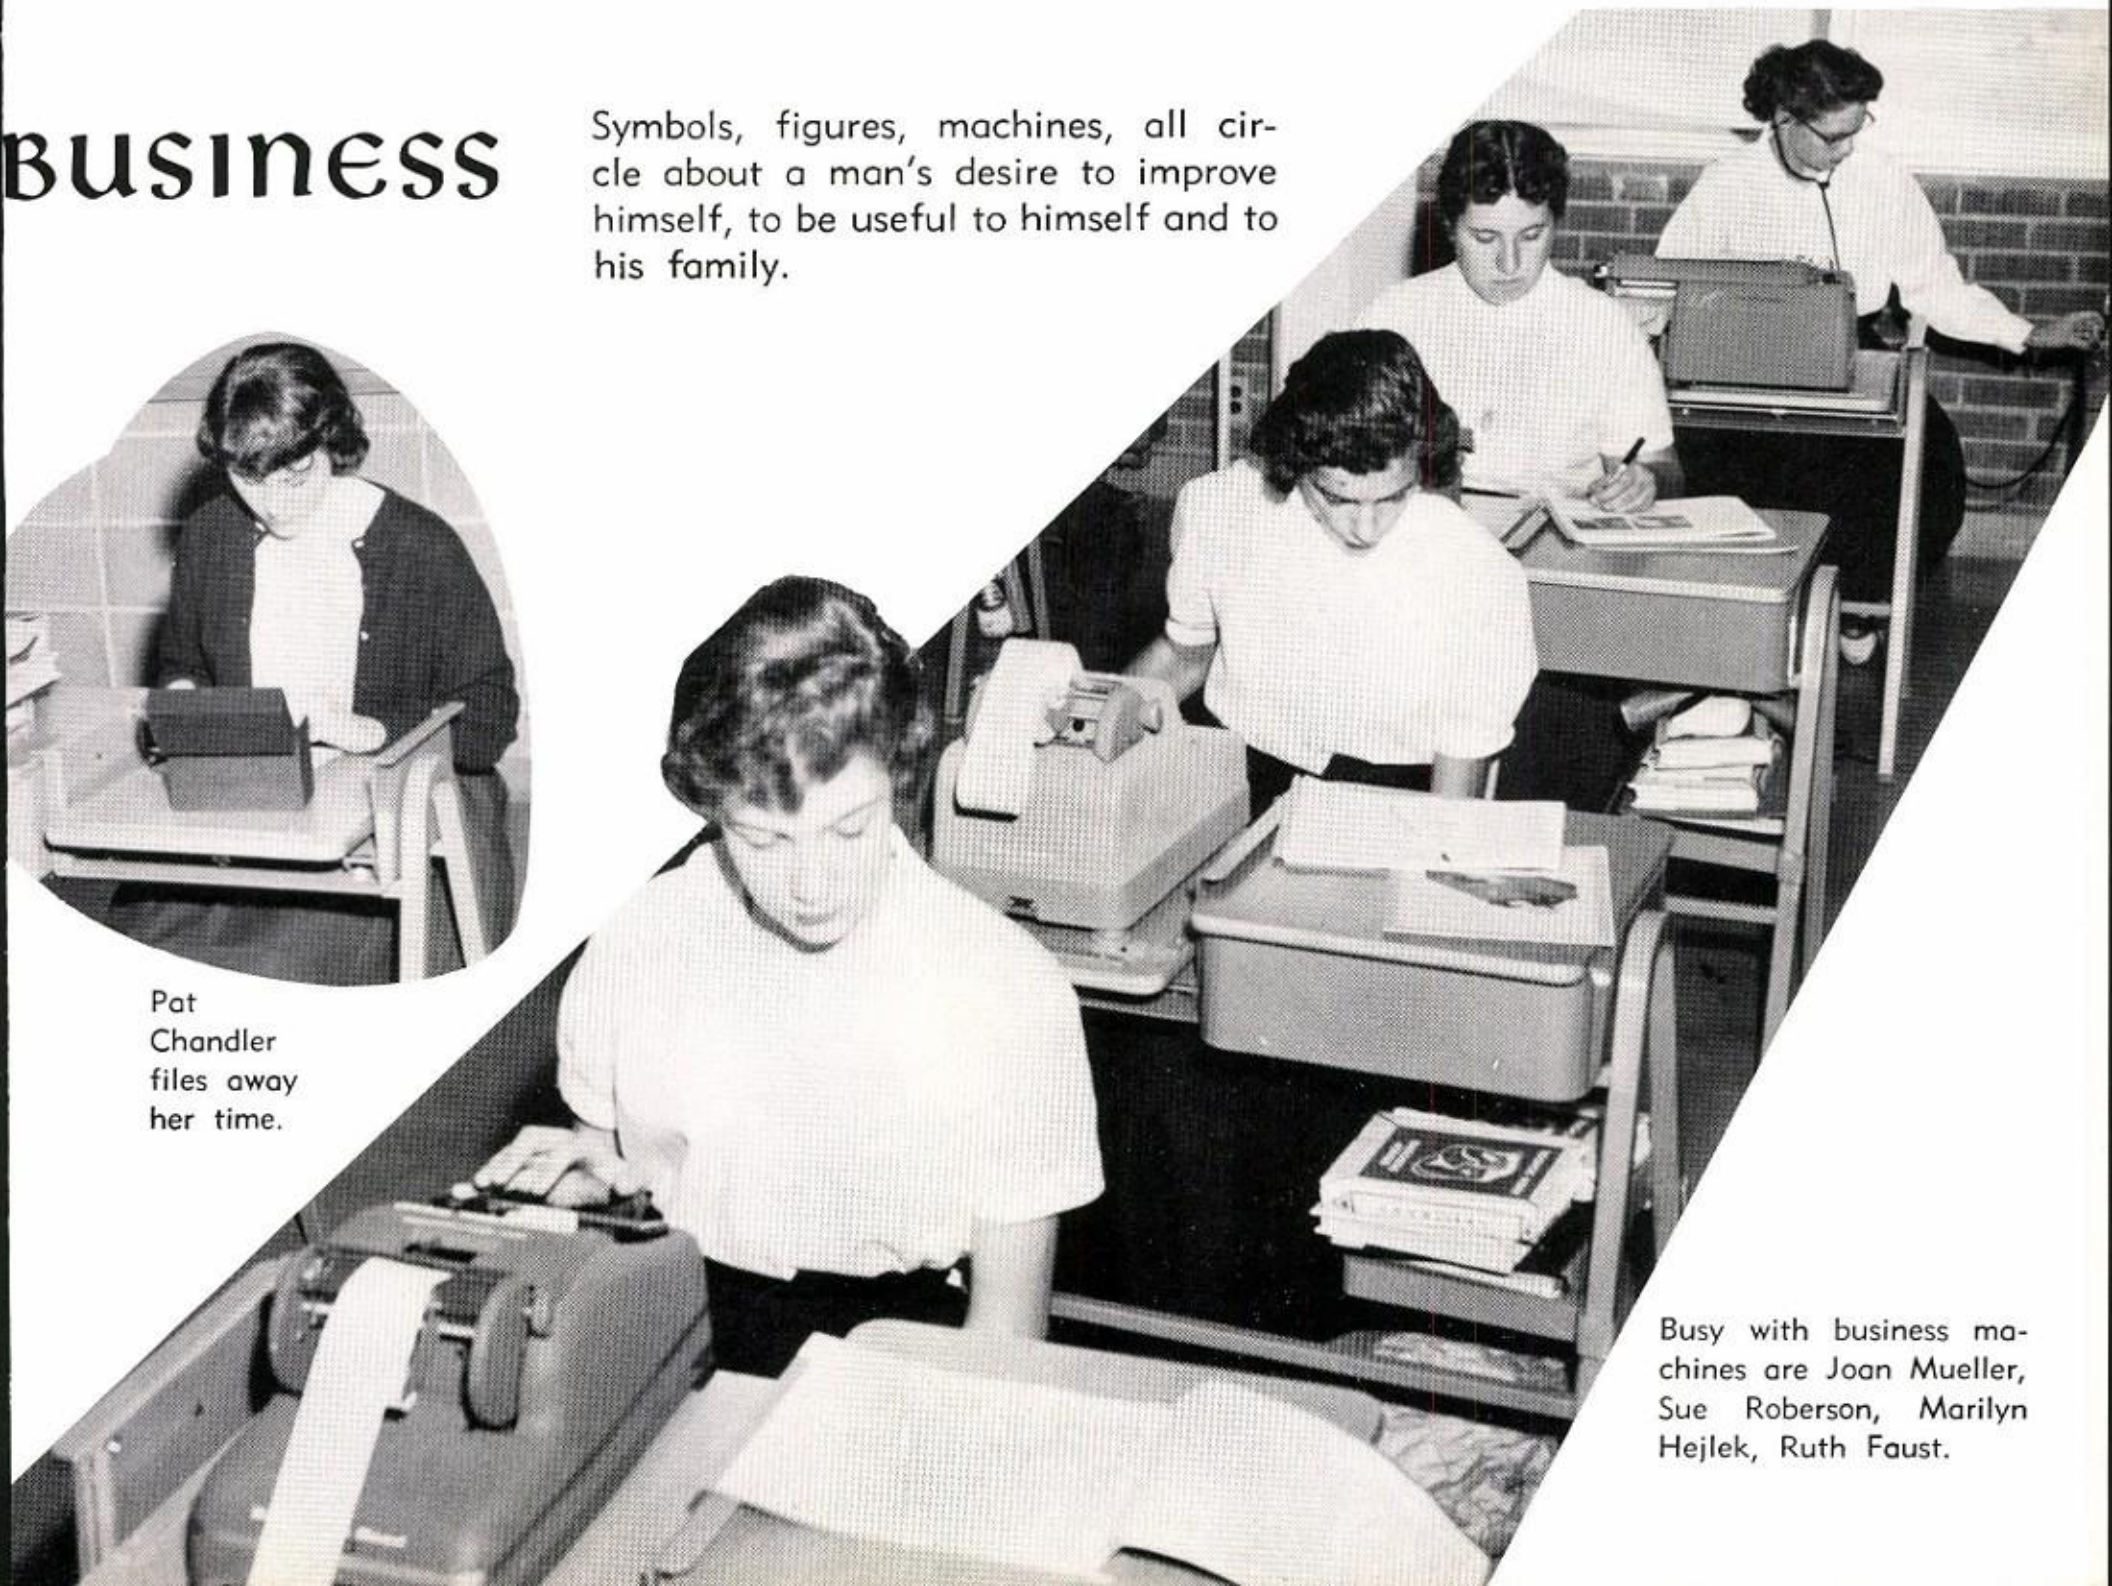

Oh, for blinders during those days of look-at--the-copy-not-at-the-keyboard!

Business

Symbols, figures, machines, all circle about a man's desire to improve himself, to be useful to himself and to his family.

Pat
Chandler files away her time.

Busy with business machines are Joan Mueller, Sue Roberson, Marilyn Hejlek, Ruth Faust.

Pinning is the beginning of dress making. Mrs. Brose gets a pattern ready for cutting in a junior class.

homemaking

The hands of a woman which make a home must be guided by a heart that knows the Good and the Beautiful.

As you sew, so shall english

To speak the thoughts of one's heart is to be like God.
In expressing our ideas to one another we want our words to be accurate — and beautiful.

"Than longen folk to goon on pilgrimages."
Pat McGrath gives out with some Chaucer.

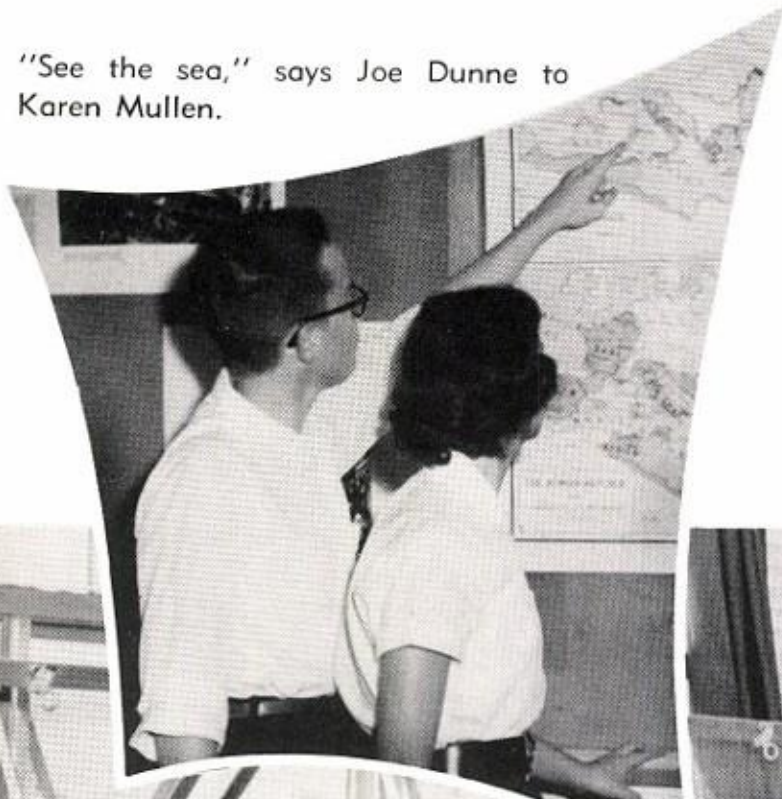

SOCIAL STUDIES

The world has grown small to-day. All the family of man are near to one another. They must learn from the past to live in harmony.

That puts St. Louis on top of the world. Bob Fellhauer, Ron Fogarty, Marge Cordes, Tom Kilcullen, Dave Brown and Pete DiManuele in geography.

"See the sea," says Joe Dunne to Karen Mullen.

languages

Each heart feels love, hope, fear. No matter what the sound it uses to express it, each is blessed with the dignity of a creature of God.

Pica pica, pica,

Arma virumque cano.

Wer reitet so spat durch Nacht und Wind?

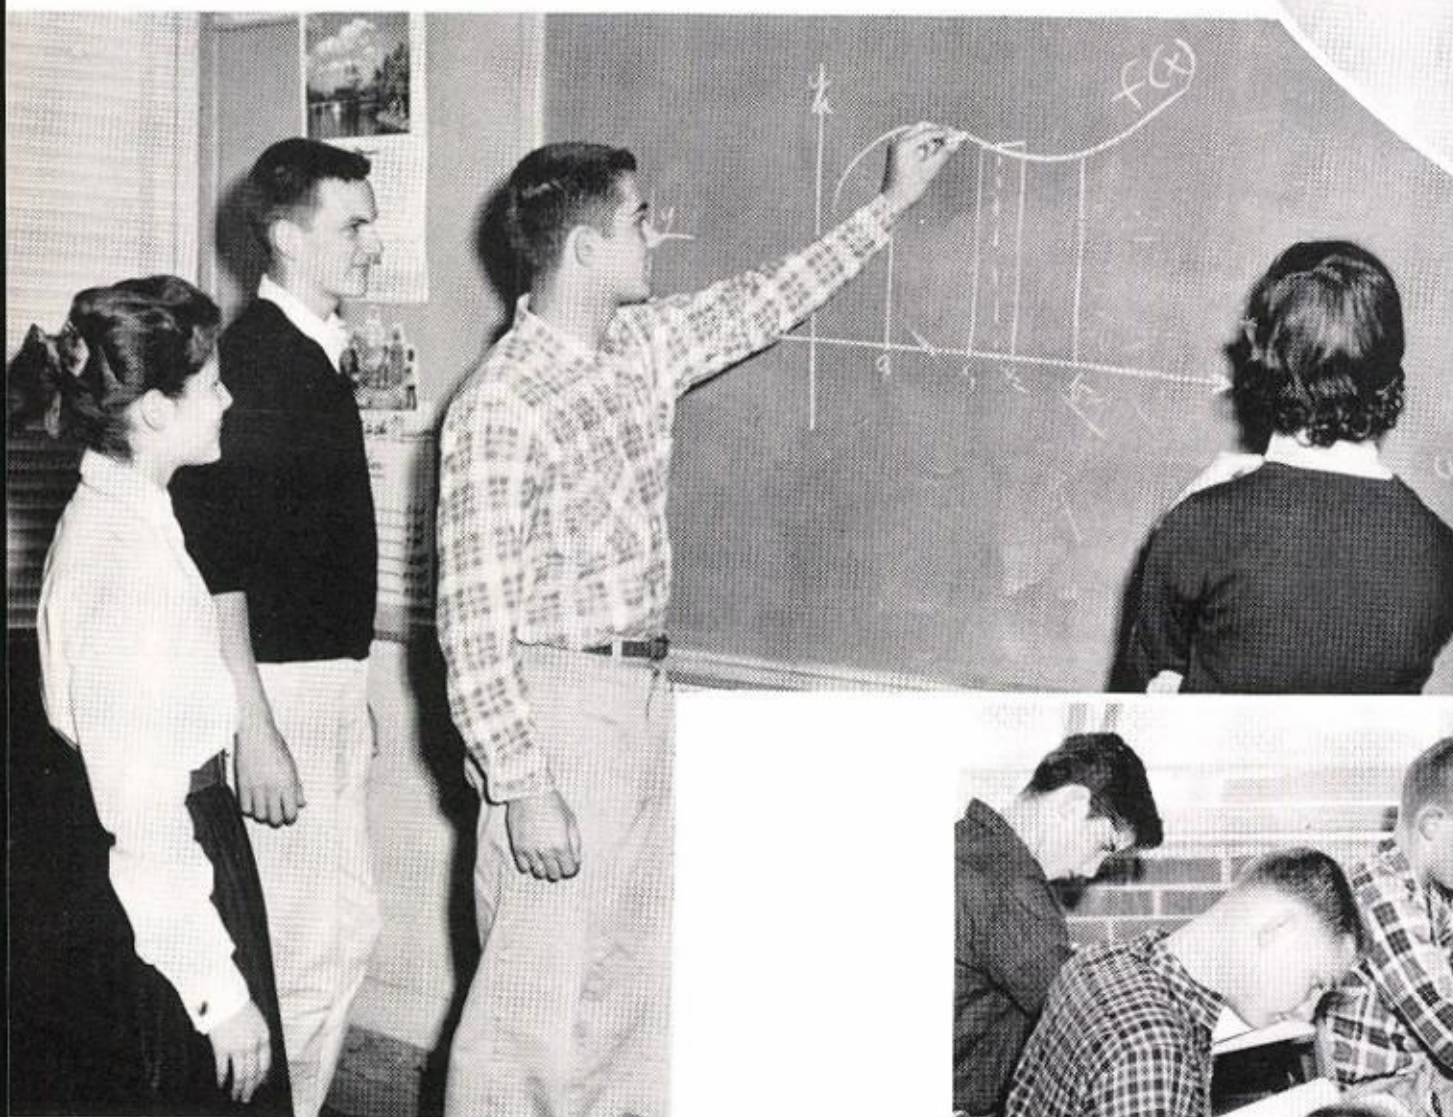

mathematics

A vast variety of difference exists in creation, yet there is an astounding precision in the harmony that fits it together.

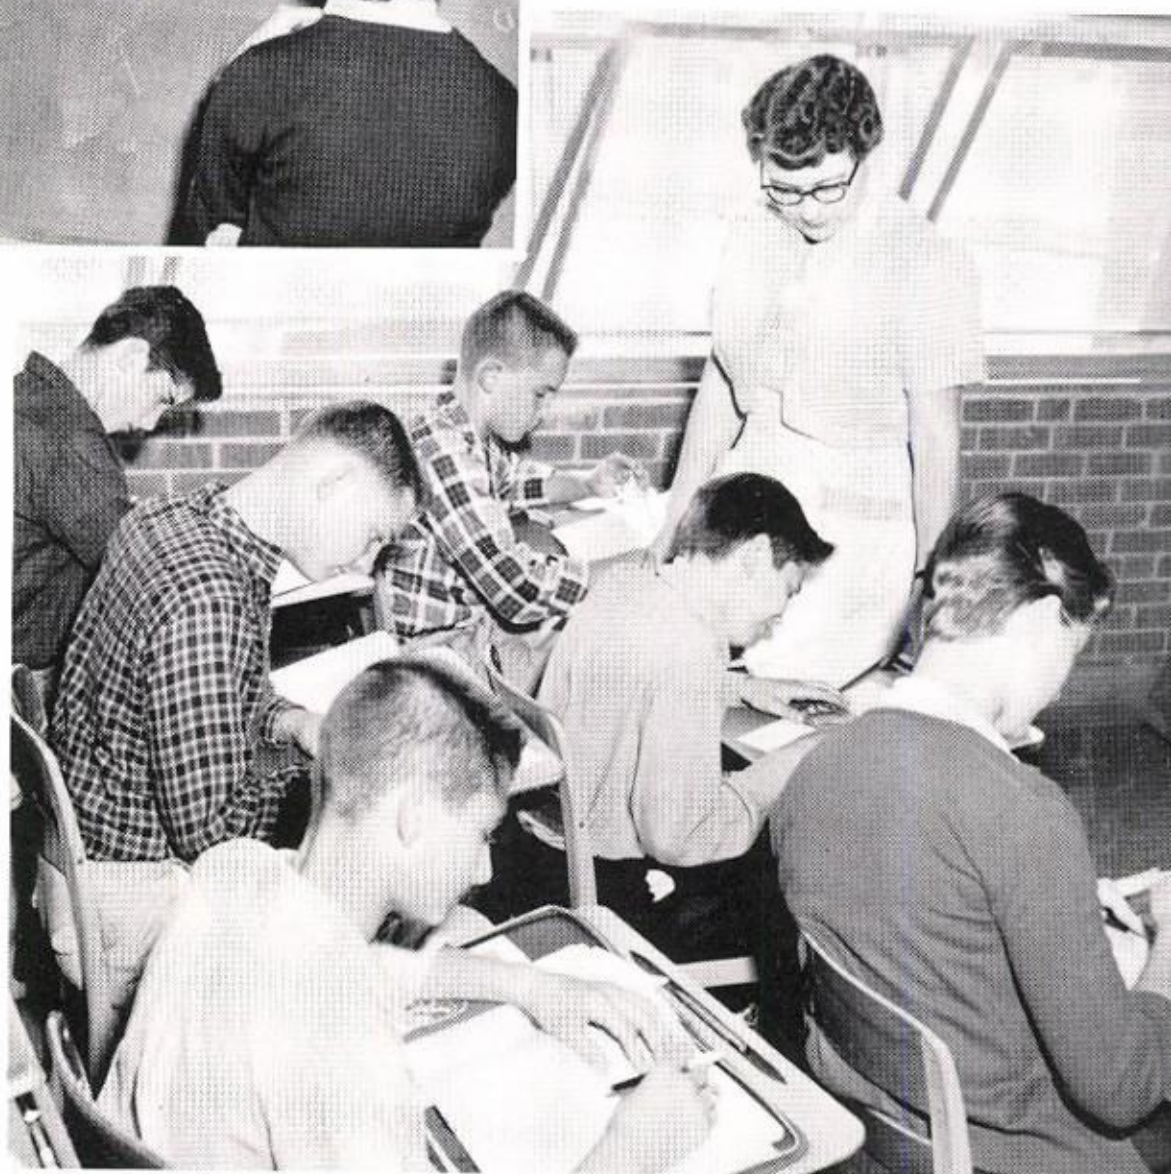

John Cockran tackles a tricky trig problem.

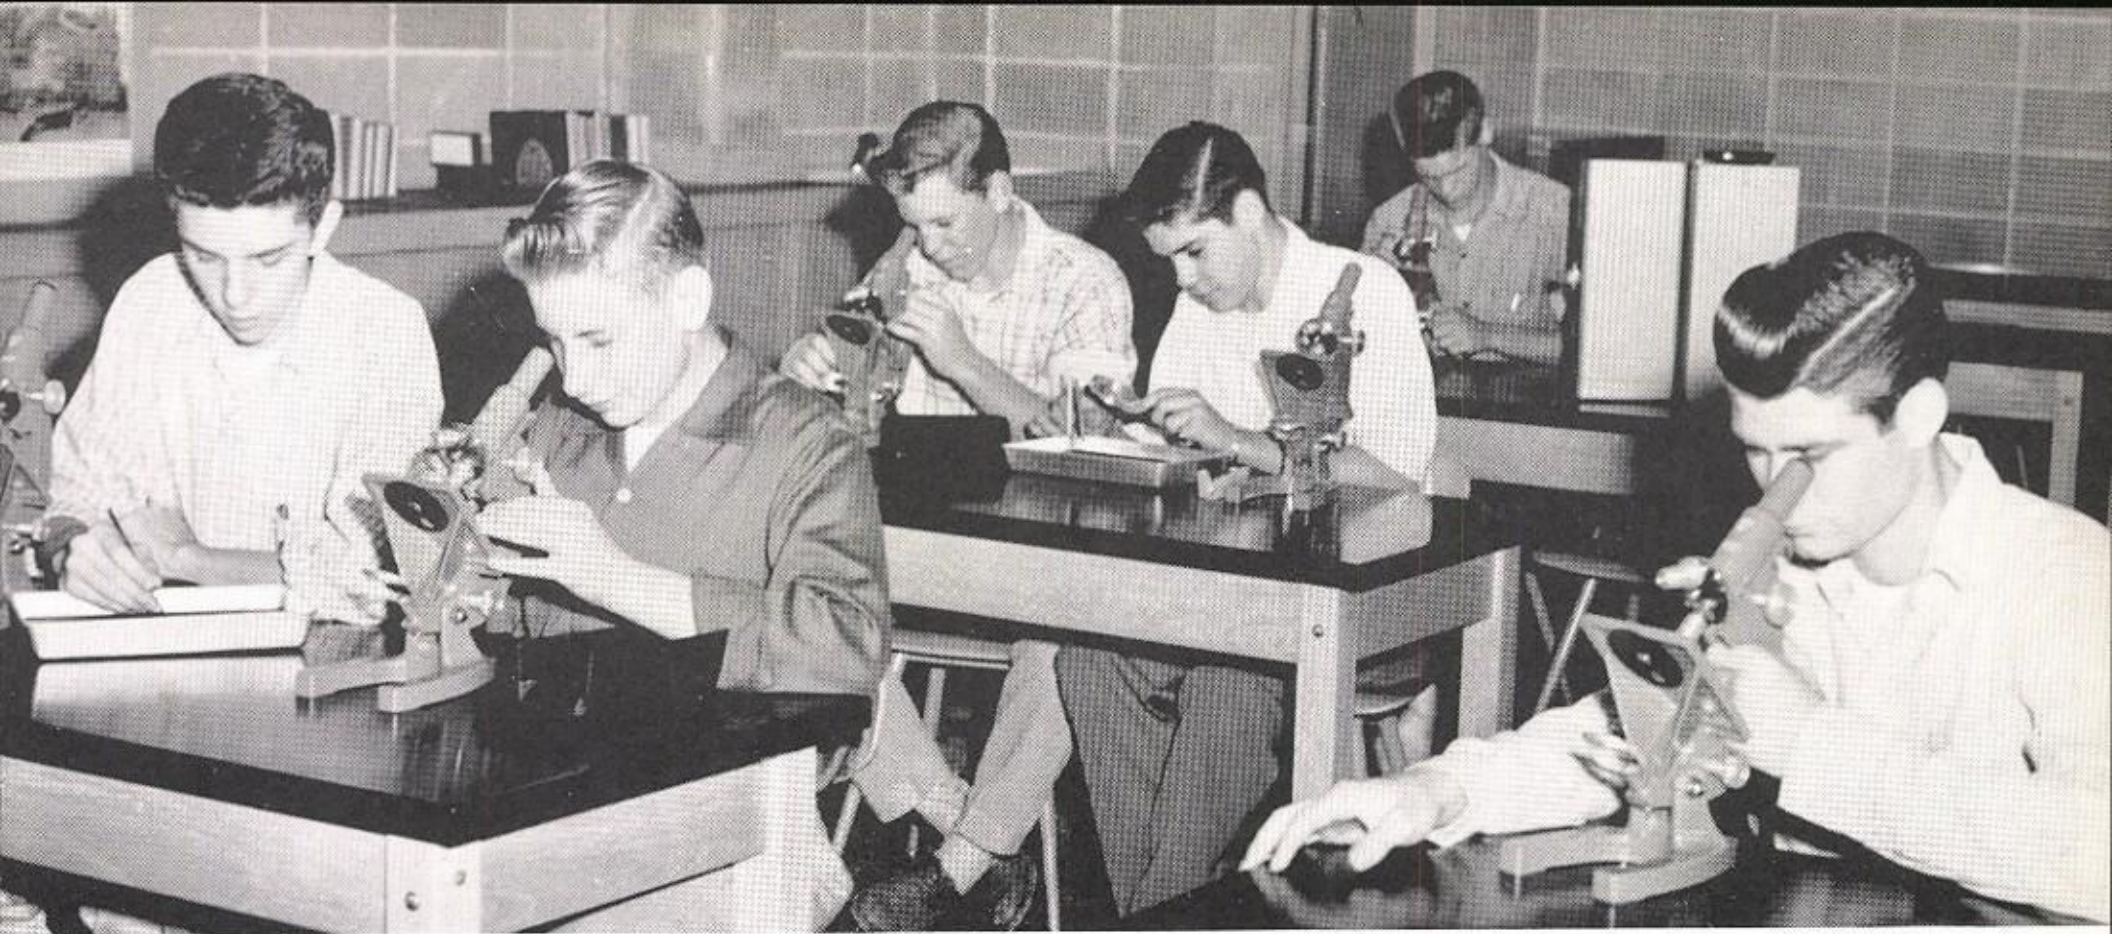

John Geismann clears up a question for Sandy Calcaterra, Mike Cooney and Pat Keating.

God eternally geometrizes;
why shouldn't we?

The wonder of working with negative numbers in Miss Branscomb's algebra.

LIBRARY

All times, all places can be held within your hands — in a book.

Sister Electa, librarian, checks the catalog with Joan Moll.

Eight periods a day, five days a week, the library gets a workout.

speech

The power of a voice can rule a world.

"On today's panel we have . . ." Barbara Burgdorf introduces Marilyn Vie, Janice Flowers, Gary Stiles, and Peggy Laubinger.

Carol,
"Bleachy" When are you going to quit hitting the bottle? I hope we eat lunch together next year.
Maian

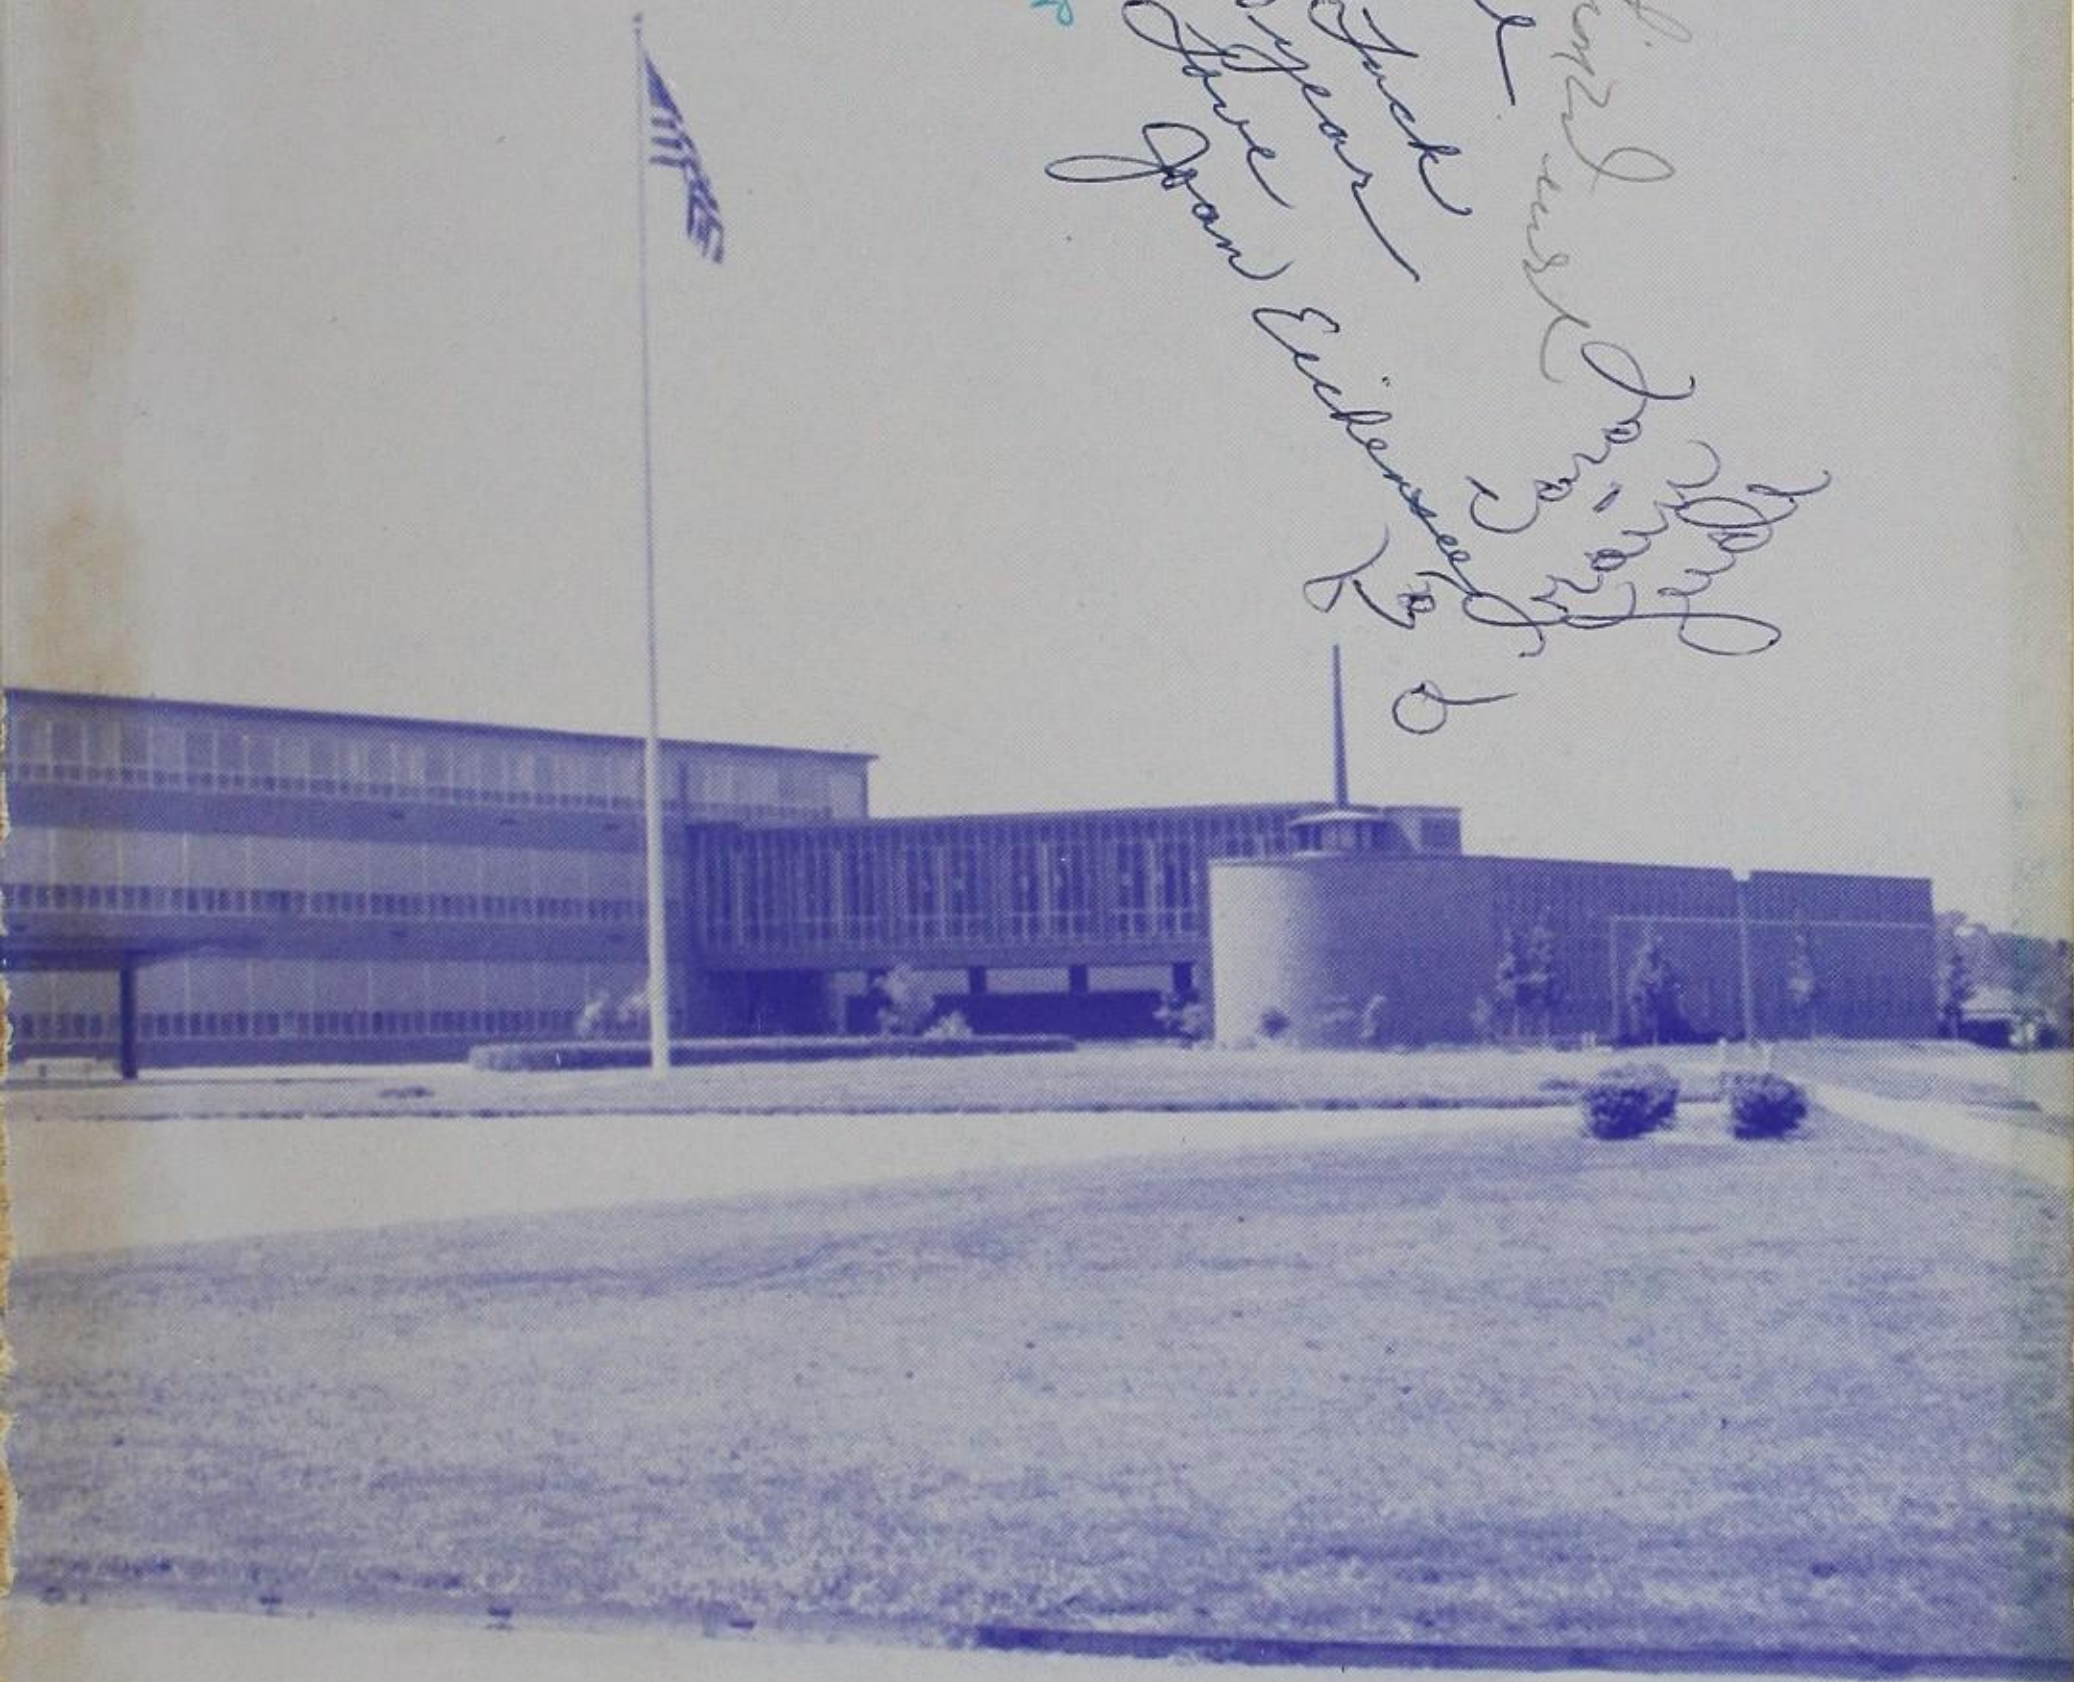

To Carol,
He suffered Latin &
Mr. Sullivan together.
He still have Senior year
& ~~the~~ Nursing school to go.
Heaven Help Us!
Cah (who?)

Travel the highway to success!
Judy Calabrese

To Carol,
 the girl who is "requested" with the school.
 Ruth Ann Villmar

Just wanted to say
 I love you
 I hope you like it
 I hope you
 like it
 I hope you
 like it

Good luck to a well great as you
